APMSO raises voice for Karachi students

OUR CORRESPONDENT

KARACHI. All Pakistan Muttahida Students Organization (APMSO) expressed serious concern over the educational exploitation of Karachi students, alleged conspiracies to occupy admissions at the university, and the deteriorating condition of education boards.

Addressing a press conference, senior joint in-charge Rehan Shah said some nationalist groups are targeting the University of Karachi and turning the prestigious institution into a political arena.

He said the KSP category recognises Karachi students' first right to admission, while Karachi students have almost no seats in other universities of Sindh.
